

Professional Wine Studies

In this course, you will study the New Zealand School of Food and Wine Certificate in Wine. This introductory wine course includes the detailed study of New Zealand wines and wine regions. You will become familiar with the latest releases of local wines, as well as the history and current focus of New Zealand's dynamic wine industry. A day trip to visit local Waipara wineries is included in the programme.

Participants then progress to the Intermediate Certificate in Wine and Spirits from the London based Wine and Spirit Education Trust (WSET). This certificate looks at wines from around the world as well as spirits and fortified wines like Port and Sherry.

Our programme is perfect for beginners and people who are passionate about wine as well as those working in the industry who wish to gain more knowledge and a well-respected international qualification.

Our experienced tutors are industry professionals who have worked in restaurants and hotels and hold the WSET qualifications. The course is taught in an approachable manner to ensure that participants learn lots but also have fun!
